

Siberian Institute of International Relations and Regional Studies

Novosibirsk
www.simor.ru

Main departments

International relations», «Foreign regional studies», «Political science»
Preparation for studies in Russian universities (Bachelor, master) - Specializations:
Diplomacy, Geopolitics, International law
International economic relations
External economic and customs activity
International marketing
Global and national security
Global and regional development issues
World politics, International public relations

Strengths of your university

The main distinctive feature of the Institute is that our graduates show deep knowledge in the sphere of international relations based on traditions of the Russian Higher School. Moreover, the level of our graduates' education meets the international educational standards.

Contact:

Alexandre Khomoutov, professeur de français, alexkhomoutov@hotmail.com